D. B. JENKINS MURDERED AT CLAY

Slayer Grabbed by Officer and Hustled to the County Jail at Dixon

Clay, Ky., 23--This city is greatly stirred up tonight over a cold blooded shooting Sunday, in which Daniel B. Jenkins, a well known restaurant man, was the victim of three pistol shot wounds, inflicted by White Pemberton, also a well known business man.

The men were rivals in business and the tragedy occurred shortly after they had made a futile effort to patch up differences of several years' standing. That Jenkins was unprepared for such an attack is evidenced by the fact that he was holding the reins of a horse when the fatal shots were fired. It is understood the murderer will plead self-defense. Pemberton was arrested directly after the shooting and was hustled to the county jail at Dixon. He refused to throw any light upon the nature of his quarrel with Jenkins.

The shooting occurred on one of the principal business corners of the town. The men had returned from a ride into the country yesterday morning. As they stopped their horse at Main and Elm streets, Jenkins was seen to raise up and strike Pemberton in the face with his fist. According to the best reports, Pemberton did not strike a blow in return. Both were seen to step out of the buggy on opposite sides. Jenkins had one hand on the front wheel of the buggy and in the other hand he held the reins of the horse. Pemberton whipped a revolver from his pocket and quickly fired at the man across the buggy from him.

The shot entered his lungs just above the heart. Jenkins fell and as he did so, writhing in apparent agony, Pemberton fired two more shots which entered Jenkins' back. The last two shots were fired underneath the bed of the buggy and, according to one eye witness, Pemberton had to stoop down in order to get unobstructed sight with his revolver. Jenkins was stretched on his side when the last two shots were fired which entered his back above the heart. It is said that either one of the three shots would have proven fatal.

Pemberton and Jenkins has been competitors here in the restaurant business for several years. Their stores were in the same block and they were only a few doors apart. It is said that an unusual jealousy would spring up between them whenever either seemed to be getting the best of it in the trade they were accorded by their townsmen. To all appearances the troubles over their business had come to an end early yesterday when they were seen to get into a buggy they hired from a livery stable and drive into the country.

It is denied that either was intoxicated, but it has been ventured that the imbibing of the spirits may have had the effect of making them forget the mending of their old breach over their business. Three or four men were standing on the corner when the shooting occurred. Boyd Vaughan of Dixon gave the best relation of the affair when the coroner's inquest was held here last night. Vaughan was standing within ten feet of the buggy when the shooting took place.

There is much sentiment here against Pemberton because of the fact that he continued to fire after his victim fell to the ground. Pemberton is a man of family and has a wife and two children. He is 35 years old. Jenkins was unmarried and 28 years of age. Pemberton was non-committal when approached in his jail cell last night. He refused to make any statement about the affair.

THE PIANO CONTEST CLOSES

Saturday Afternoon at Six O'clock Who Will be the Lucky Winner

The Record-Press Prize Contest closes Saturday evening at six o'clock. The count will be made immediately after by Senator Maxwell, J. B. Orme and J. D. Asher.

Promptly as the town clock strikes six o'clock the voting will stop and the box placed in the hands of the judges, who will at once commence the count.

Our foreman failed to change the reading notice on another page that was printed last week, saying the contest closes Saturday week, which was true then. But once for all remember it closes on Saturday of this week, Oct. 29, when the winner will be awarded this fine piano by the judges, as will be the other prizes in line and by reason of the strongest vote.

Get your votes in for your candidate before the clock strikes six Saturday if you expect to help her win the prize.

As the Marion Bank closes Saturday before the contest closes for the convenience of all we will on Saturday morning, place the ballot box in the drug-store of Haynes & Taylor, where it will remain until the judges take charge of it at six o'clock that evening. Remember the contest closes day after to-morrow, Saturday, October 29.

A SCRAP IN JAIL

One day last week there was considerable stir on the streets when it was known the only two prisoners in the county jail were in a "scrap." They were: Horning put in several weeks ago for bootlegging whiskey and Jno. Roberts, put in last week for cursing his father.

By some oversight a hatchet had been left in the jail that Horning used pretty freely over the head of young Roberts who had been cursing him and spitting in his face.

TEACHERS ASSOCIATION AT FRANCES

Saturday Oct. 22 a Successful Coming Together and Enjoyed by all Who Attended

The house was called to order by President M. F. Pogue. After a song in which the visitors joined, the president delivered the welcome address, which made all feel thrice welcome. Mr. T. F. Newcom responded in a few well chosen words.

The following teachers were then enrolled: Misses Jennie Clement, Marion Richards, Maude Richards, Lizzie Glenn and Lula B. Wheeler, and Messrs M. F. Pogue, T. F. Newcom, Lewis Matthews, H. R. Matthews, and John E. Franks. After the enrollment of teachers the regular program was rendered.

Every teacher responded when his or her name was called.

Mr. Lewis Matthews very ably discussed "Plans For The Betterment of The Country Schools." He thinks the first requisite is a good teacher, then to grade the schools and secure unity and harmony between patrons, pupils children. The subject was discussed by Miss Maude Richard and Messrs Pogue and Newcom.

Miss Lizzie Glenn read a very interesting paper on Literature in the Grades. She gave many practical suggestions.

Miss Marion Richards discussed: "Nature Study in the County Schools." She had carefully prepared her subject and showed how important it was.

Miss Lula Wheeler discussed "Teaching Children to Study."

J. C. Hardin being absent Rev. Thompson, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Frances, ably discussed "Material for Moral Lesson." He would use the Bible, biography (of great men) Literature--ex. Dickens' Works, Current Literature, and School and Home Occurrences.

Miss Jennie Clement gave plans for work that should be accomplished in Language in the first three grades, and helpful devices for same plans.

The subject "How to Secure Better Attendance" was discussed by several. The teachers report better attendance this year than last.

In discussing special day programs Mr. Newcom thought they should be held at the beginning of the school that patrons, pupils and teachers might become better acquainted early in the school year.

Mr. M. F. Pogue led the discussion on "School Furniture." He thought that the district should have better furniture for their schools. Several complained of not having seating capacity for pupils in attendance. "Practical Aids For Teaching History" was discussed by Mr. Roy Matthews, Mr. Pogue and Mr. Lewis Matthews.

After discussing F. D. E. A. several teachers made known their intentions of attending.

On motion of Pres. M. Pogue the papers read by Misses Richard, Glenn and Wheeler and the papers of the Association are to be published in the Record-Press. The teachers present wish to thank the good people of Frances and neighboring communities for their generous hospitality for such a bountiful dinner, and for their presence.

LULA B. WHEELER, Secretary.

WOODMEN AT LOUISVILLE SUNDAY

Seven Thousand Eighth Hundred Tyros made Woodmen Members at One Time.

One of the largest class initiations ever held in the world by a secret order took place Sunday afternoon at the Armory when 7,800 new members were received into the Woodmen of the World. Ten thousand men were present in the inclosure when Gov. Augustus E. Wilson delivered an address welcoming the visitors from various neighboring States to Kentucky. The exercises were opened with an invocation offered by the Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins.

Gov. Wilson was introduced by J. T. Funk, Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements, and in his address of welcome said in part:

"There is no more impressive sight than a gathering so vast which is moved by a common generous purpose. It is one of the most impressive things that can be seen by the eye of man, and is a wonderful illustration of the power of co-operation."

"By the genius of those who founded this organization, more than 50,000 men have been brought together, all inspired with one great purpose—to benefit man-kind."

We're Glad You Came.

"Visitors, neighbors, friends we greet you and welcome you."

You are welcome to Kentucky and trust you will find that all the people have open hearts ready to welcome you and glad that you have come."

After the address of welcome, the uniformed degree team Toledo Ohio, led in the initiation exercises. It was impossible to put through each member of such a large class so only one candidate, in the person of Mayor W. O. Head, was selected "to ride the goat" while the remainder of the candidates looked on and saw how the thing was done.

The initiation exercises concluded the afternoon program.

Meeting Last Night

The open meeting at the armory last night was well attended about 5,000 persons being present. Before the speaking commenced the sovereign officers and guests were driven around the aing in carriages while a band played "My Old Kentucky Home," "Dixie" other popular airs.

A feature of the program was the presentation of Maj. Gen. John C. Yates, of Omaha, of bouquets to five children who were in the parade as representatives of Beechwood camp of Louisville.

The little ones were Sadie Weatherly, Douglas Roulston Anne Sage, Roberta Roulston and Master Morris Sage.

Maj. Gen. Yates spoke of the great fraternal work being done by the Woodmen of the World.

Welcomed to Louisville.

J. T. Funk presided and introduced the visitors to Louisville. Mayor Head said in part: "I had intended to turn the city over to you but when I awoke this morning I found that a great army of Woodmen had already taken possession. It means much to a nation to have such a fraternal order as this."

It means that in union there is strength.

"Through such an organization men get to know one another better, and as they get to know one another better they love humanity more. If it were not for such organizations I believe that this world of ours would be more selfish. I wish to assure you, one and all, that you are cordially welcome in Louisville."

The members of the growing organization from Marion, Lola and other points took passage about fifty strong, for the concentration at Princeton Saturday morning when in three sections of twelve coaches each they were conveyed to Louisville.

It had been the expectation to initiate six thousand new members, but the estimate was over run and seven thousand-eight hundred took upon themselves the obligation.

All of the boys were pleased with their trip and very much impressed by the largest crowd ever coming together in fraternal work.

The Kentucky State Journal, edited by former governor J. C. W. Beckham, reaches out in prophecy and fore-knowledge claiming to see through Dr. Cook's north pole story and predicting the failure of Wellman to cross the Atlantic in his airship "America," but he could not see or at least he did not foretell that his refusal to withdraw his name before the Legislature as a candidate for the United States Senate meant the election of Mr. Bradley or most any other republican to the place. Had he with-drawn when he and the whole party saw defeat staring him in the face the voice of Congressman Ollie M. James would now be ringing throughout the halls of the Senate chamber and the party would have been at peace. And now he is for Mr. McCreary for Governor, which means "there is something dead up the creek" and the smell sufficient to make true democrats look a leedle oud, lest they have a repetition of the 1908 performance in 1912.

"When thieves fall out an honest man knows his own but when they go back together and are singing "Hail Hail the bands all here," there is a --ll of a trip brewing up Salt river for the old ship."

A VISIT TO DAWSON SATURDAY

The Most Popular and Best Patronized Watering Place in Old Kentucky or the South

For a little rest, but mainly to visit our good friends, Rev. S. L. C. Coward and his estimable wife the editor and his wife took passage on the I. C. on last Saturday morning for Dawson, arriving there at one o'clock in the afternoon returning Monday morning.

On our arrival, that we might be with our good friends we were directed to the home of Mrs. News, where they were boarding and glad we were as with the aid of her daughter, Miss Lucy, we were treated to everything good to eat known to the best house keepers of the State that has never been surpassed in the culinary art.

A great and glorious surprise for us was the fact that a revival meeting was in progress at the beautiful, new Methodist chapel, being conducted by Rev. H. E. Draper of Missouri, an Evangelist of note throughout a great portion of the South, a nephew of Bro. Coward and a man we have loved and recognized as one of the great preachers of the South.

Truly this short visit was made a pleasant one to both of us for in this good town there are as many good and hospitable people to the square yard as in any other spot on earth. Home first, but next to it we tip our hat to Dawson.

While there we visited friend Ferguson of the Dawson Tribune, the cleanest prettiest sheet put out to day in Kentucky, and proud were we to note around his office signs that help the editor to live, liberally patronized by job work.

Dawson, notwithstanding her sixty thousand summer visitors having nearly all returned home, is a live town and could well live without them. She boasts now, what Marion has not, a water works under construction, flouring mill, six large hotels, a handle factory, two hickory mills, ice plant, planing mill, two light plants, High school, four churches, a great number of up-to-date stores, no bar rooms and a splendid citizenship.

We were indeed pleased with our trip and to dear Bro. Coward and his dear wife, Mr. and Mrs. McCauley, Mrs. News and her daughter, Miss Lucy, we are particularly thankful for their so many courtesies. We also desire to compliment the people of Dawson on their good fortune at having with them the present year two of the noblest Christian characters we have ever known. In all the towns they have ever lived the people of all churches are ready to follow them up and proclaim them blessed.

Come and see the great cooking wonder at our store all next week. You have a chance to get a Souvenir Set of Ware Free. See large advertisement in this paper. T. H. COCHRAN & Co.
